RUCKUS, FORMERLY CANARY

Hi guys, it's me, Ruckus (formerly Canary.) I just wanted to wish you all a Happy Easter. I had my mom send along a few pictures of me at work with her. She says she feels better when I keep her company, especially when I stay overnight. I feel like a celebrity some days. I spend the rest of my time playing in the barn with my stepbrother, Jay. Mom says he's an Arabian, so maybe that's a rare breed or something. I play with him and the chickens at the barn, and they keep me amused while Mom's doing boring stuff. Well, it's getting kinda late and we have to get back to work, but I'll come and visit soon, I promise. Tell the other kids there to keep their chins up, and maybe they'll get as lucky as I was and find a great new home. I'll write again soon.
